Foreword to 2014-2015 Diocesan Cycle of Prayer

However settled parochial life may seem to any of us, diocesan life is characterised by movement and change. Throughout the year it is my pleasure and my privilege to welcome new personnel into the ministerial life, lay and ordained, of the United Dioceses and to observe how they settle in very rapidly to diocesan and community life. The year past has been no exception and I am sure the same will hold for the year to come.

The Diocesan Cycle of Prayer is a focal point in this movement and this stability. It offers centrality to all our earthly endeavours in the face of our Heavenly Father. It enables every one of us to pray for the people who form our parochial communities and for the clergy who serve God in serving their needs and in leading their worship. Prayer holds us in the hands of God when all other comforts seem to be worthless; prayer restores us to right relationship with God and with one another. Prayer enables us to be confident in our humility before God and in our witnessing before the world and to give thanks in God's House for God's goodness.

I wish to thank the Reverend Canon Mark Gardner for compiling this Cycle of Prayer and I wish to record also the appreciation which members of the United Dioceses have for the work of Mrs Sylvia Heggie in ensuring that it is published accurately and attractively.

Please use it regularly and prayerfully.

+Michael
